

CIVIL SOCIETY DEMANDS THE IMMEDIATE RELEASE OF VENEZUELAN HUMAN RIGHTS DEFENDER ROCÍO SAN MIGUEL

February 12, 2024

We, the undersigned civil society organizations and individuals, express in the strongest possible terms our rejection of the arbitrary detention and forced disappearance for more than 60 hours of human rights defender Rocío San Miguel, by agents of the Military Counterintelligence Directorate [DGCIM] and the Bolivarian Intelligence Service [SEBIN] of Venezuela. San Miguel, a lawyer who is president of the NGO “Control Ciudadano” and an expert in military and national security issues, was approached by DGCIM and SEBIN officials and detained at the Simon Bolivar International Airport near Caracas when she was about to travel on February 9, 2024 in the company of her daughter. Two days passed without her relatives, her lawyers, or society as a whole having any knowledge of her whereabouts, personal integrity or life, making her forced disappearance a public and notorious fact. At 5pm on February 11, the head of the Public Prosecutor's Office, Tarek William Saab, acknowledged, through his X account, the detention of the human rights defender, stating she was under an arrest warrant for being allegedly linked to conspiracy plots. However, San Miguel's whereabouts and the security authority in charge of her detention are still unknown, nor has it been possible to verify her physical health and integrity.

It must be emphasized that the refusal of State agents and authorities to provide information on the whereabouts, physical health, integrity, and life of human rights defender Rocío San Miguel, as well as the failure to provide information on the authority in charge of her custody, amounts to a forced disappearance. The systematic pattern of temporary forced disappearances in Venezuela has been documented by United Nations bodies and denounced before the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances. The practices of disappearance constitute a form of lack of protection before the law, which generates very serious individual and social repercussions, being considered cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment. In turn, it has been documented that disappearances in Venezuela place victims in extremely vulnerable and dangerous conditions in which they may be subject to torture to obtain statements against themselves. These amount to very serious human rights violations, contrary to the commitments of the State to comply with international standards and the Constitution of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela. This very serious act against Rocío San Miguel violates international provisions against forced disappearance, as well as the duty of States not to practice, permit or tolerate it.

The human rights defender Rocío San Miguel is renowned for her work over more than a decade with Control Ciudadano to investigate, monitor, and evaluate security and national defense issues and the armed forces. She closely follows the commitments of the Venezuelan State with the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court, publishing reports that have been widely disseminated through social networks in the country and via international platforms. Her activities are public, including her active participation in high-level national and international forums and events on the topics of her expertise. Additionally, as Rocío San Miguel is a prominent university professor, her arbitrary detention violates academic freedom and the Inter-American Principles on Academic Freedom of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights. Her credibility and expertise, especially in the military field, have made her the woman human rights defender subject to the most attacks, criminalization, persecution, and harassment by senior state officials and security agencies of the Venezuelan State. She has received threats against her life and integrity on several occasions along with her family, for which she is the beneficiary since January 2022 of precautionary (protective) measures issued by the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights.

Contrary to the obligation of protection, for more than a decade, this human rights defender has been defamed and criminalized for alleged conspiracies that she has never been part of. President Nicolás Maduro himself accused her of being involved in a coup attempt in 2014, and almost weekly she has been slandered, adding up to dozens of accusations from Deputy Diosdado Cabello on his national TV show “Con el Mazo Dando.” However, Rocío San Miguel has demonstrated for decades her unimpeachable commitment to human rights, promoting democratic actions, always within the framework of domestic legal norms and human rights standards. An example of this was her denunciation against political discrimination in Venezuela through the use of the Tascón List. San Miguel took this case to the Inter-American human rights system, obtaining a ruling from the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, thus setting a precedent of protection for dozens of people whose fundamental rights had been affected.

The detention of Rocío San Miguel is part of the Venezuelan government's policies of criminalization and persecution of the work of promotion and defense of human rights and the closure of civic space in Venezuela – policies based on the consideration of the role of social activists and human rights defenders as "internal enemies" and of alleging their participating in conspiracies and attempts of "assassinations." It also constitutes an expression of the continuous violations of human rights occurring in Venezuela and the deepening of the pattern of arbitrary arrests, followed by incommunicado detention, as a mechanism to repress, intimidate and attempt to silence the voices of those who speak the truth about what is happening in Venezuela. Recently, similar accusations were made by the Public Prosecutor's Office against journalist Sebastiana Barráez and human rights defender Tamara Sujú, without any evidence or consistent proof being presented.

We want to publicly endorse attorney Rocío San Miguel's transparent work in the study, promotion and defense of the rights of the population to defense and national sovereignty. Nothing done by the NGO Control Ciudadano or by Rocío San Miguel as the organization's president constitutes a crime, since all her work and the results of the same are in plain view. This arbitrary deprivation of liberty of the lawyer and human rights defender Rocío San Miguel is added to that of Javier Tarazona who will soon complete 32 months in detention under very similar circumstances. This is a practice to which all human rights defenders in Venezuela are at risk, which should no longer be tolerated.

By virtue of these considerations:

- We demand respect for the physical and psychological integrity of Rocío San Miguel and her entire family, and her immediate release.
- We demand that the various bodies of the United Nations and the entire International Human Rights System, including the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Special Rapporteur on the situation of Human Rights Defenders and the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, make firm statements advocating for the immediate release of Rocío San Miguel.
- We urge the democratic governments and civic organizations of the world to denounce this unacceptable and grave conduct and to show solidarity for the immediate release of Rocío San Miguel.

Signed,
